

BIO

Kathryne Hall creates public art addressing themes of sensory perception, architectural function and the instability of the urban environment. Since 2007 she has produced large scale public installations in New York City, both temporary and permanent. Her work has been featured in The New York Times, Time Out New York, Powerhouse Presents and on HD Net TV.